
Katie Kurz

Katie Kurz's passion for knitting began when she was four years old. Katie is the owner of Maggie Mae and Me, a studio where she designs and teaches the art of knitting. When she unexpectedly spent eight weeks in a town that did not have a yarn shop, Katie began learning beadwork. Entranced by the beauty and variety of beads available, she soon began adding beads to her knitting designs. Her dog, Maggie Mae, is her constant companion and greets every visitor to the studio with great enthusiasm.
